The benefits of digital business cards

Save on printing time & costs

Don't wait for business cards to be printed. Every time you hire a new employee or someone's information changes, simply add or update their card in the app.

Share cards with anyone, anywhere

Digital cards are contactless. Your team can share their cards with anyone, anywhere using a QR code, email, text message, social media, NFC tag, and more.

Access your digital cards on the go

Your team can access their digital cards on their phone, tablet, laptop, or Apple Watch—no more running out of business cards or forgetting them at home.

Collect leads and prospects

View all the contacts your team makes in a centralized corporate address book, and upload them to your own customer relationship management tool.

Modernize your networking solution

Paper business cards are dated. Digital cards contain richer information, have no space limitations, can be transformed into email signatures and virtual backgrounds, and so much more.

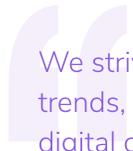

Turn handshakes into relationships

Reminders to follow up are built directly into your workflow, so your team will never forget to follow up with their new contacts.

The top-rated digital business card platform

Don't take our word for it—here's what our customers have to say:

We strive to stay at the forefront of marketing trends, while paper cards still have a place, a digital card gives much more opportunity to connect with our potential clients. HiHello allows us to offer our clients a managed digital card experience, which we augment with branded video and additional media.
